COMPLETE PLANS FOR AMERICAN LEGION FESTIVAL

Chairman Hills Says All Is Ready for Big 4-Day Frolic

Chairman Walter Hills of the American Legion Festival committee today announced that all plans had been completed for the big four-day festival to be held here July 1, 2, 3 and 4. The local Auxiliary Unit is cooperating with Mrs. Ruth Ward, president, as the acting chairman.

The gala event this year, as in former years will be held on the lot opposite the postoffice at the corner of Main and Park ave., and the festivities will begin on Friday night, July 1, according to plans.

Amusement features will be supplied by the Louis J. Thebaud Amusement company of Milwaukee, who will bring a mammoth Ferris wheel, merry-go-round and thrilling tilt-a-whirl to provide rides for young and old.

The Legion and Auxiliary will conduct the games, amusement devices, and the lunch and refreshment stands.

Serving on the Festival committee with Chairman Hills are Capt. L. D. Powers, Warren Edwards, Dr. L. J. Zimmerman, and Bill Phillips.

SEEK LONGER HUNTING, FISHING SEASON HERE

Present Game & Fish Codes Unfair to Northern Illinois Zone

The opinions of Illinois sportsmen regarding game laws, particularly those covering migratory waterfowl, will be presented to federal authorities at the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners in a meeting at Asheville, N. C., June 20, to 24. Illinois will be represented by Thomas J. Lynch, Acting Director of the State Department of Conservation, G. G. Brandenburg, of Chicago, and Francis D. Hunt, Department fish culturist. Sentiment among representative Illinois sportsmen is reported to favor a longer open season on ducks and a two-day bag limit.

Asks Aid of Lions

Recently Director Lynch sought the aid of the Antioch Lions club and interested sportsmen of the Chain O' Lakes region in bringing to the attention of state and federal authorities the urgent need for drastic changes in the game and fish code.

The present codes were drafted with a splendid disregard of zoning regions and the migratory habits of wild fowl, according to sportsmen, who declare that most of the ducks have left the northern Illinois zone before the open season starts on Nov. 1. They favor October 1 as a more favorable date of opening the season.

Fish Code Unfair

Fishermen also register complaint because of the late date set for the opening of the bass season here—June 16, declaring that although farther north, Wisconsin sportsmen enjoy many weeks of this sport that is denied Illinois anglers. The present law also has its economic effect among resort owners who are forced to sit idly by and watch the early fishing business go to other localities favored by more liberal laws.

The opening date of the bass season here formerly was May 15, but more recent laws set the date ahead one month, long after the spawning season is over. Fishermen generally favor an opening date at least as early as June 1.

Find Body of Farm Hand on Railroad Track at Loon Lake

A search was being continued today for relatives of Jack Clark, 55, whose body was found at Loon Lake Tuesday morning on the Soo railroad right of way by section men.

Clark was a farm hand employed by George Schover. Deputy sheriffs investigating the death which was thought to have occurred about 8 o'clock a. m., believe that Clark became confused while crossing the track. Police of Elgin have been asked to locate a married sister of Clark in that city.

Tagged Fish Elude Anglers; Only One Caught During Week

Tagged prize fish in local lakes are becoming extremely wary—so wary that only one was caught during the past week.

The lucky angler is Harry Adelmann, 1112 Oakland street, Joliet, Ill., who pulled up a $5 bluegill at Petite lake Saturday afternoon. The tag was redeemed at once by Dr. D. N. Deering, Antioch Lions club secretary.

Adelmann is a machinist employed in the shops of the E. J. & B. railroad at Joliet. Saturday was the first time he had visited the local lakes.

CHANNEL LAKE CLUB IS COMMENDED BY HIGHWAY OFFICIAL

Community Group Plans Big Year at Popular Channel Lake

The Channel Lake Community club this week received the commendation of C. H. Appel, district engineer of the Illinois Highway Department, for the move the club inaugurated recently to promote safety on the highways in the Channel Lake area.

Among the committee chairmen making reports Monday night at the meeting presided over by President Paul Chase, was John B. Barth, head of the promotion committee, and Nicholas Zeien, who presides over the work to promote safety and reduce fire hazards in the district. The committee reported that Verne Rogers, a Lake county deputy sheriff, has been employed to patrol the roads in the vicinity of Channel Lake. The club has erected caution signs intended to warn motorists against excessive speed in the thickly populated district.

Plan Festival

Ambitious plans for a community festival to be staged at the popular lake center, sometime in August were also laid before the Club by Promotion Chairman Barth. While plans are not mature, it is understood that a program of events is being worked out to include boat races, both sail and power craft, swimming contests, and a popularity contest. Ed Kapsa, also a member of the committee, is giving his attention to the sports angle of the proposed event, as well as to the promotion of all year round sports for the area.

Serving with Chairman Zeien on the fire hazard and safety committee are Officer Rogers and Don Woolner. The Child Welfare and Education committee is presided over by Mrs. W. W. Ward, who has as her assistants Mrs. Paul Chase and Tom Dowell. Requests and complaints are taken care of through the committee composed of Mrs. Vivien Glynn, as chairman, and Tom Runyard and Charles Atwood as members. Russell Barnstable serves as finance chairman, and Al Eberling heads the committee on membership.

The board of directors includes President Chase, Einar Sorenson, Robert Hess, Mrs. Ward, Charles Zapp, Mr. Runyard and Lyle Rogers.

The Club expects to receive its charter from the state within the next few days. It is believed by the club's affiliates that the constructive program marked out by the new organization merits the support of all progressive citizens.

Antioch F. F. A. Boys Compete in State Contest

The Dairy and Grain Judging teams of the Antioch High School, accompanied by C. L. Kutil, instructor, returned from the University of Illinois last Saturday after competing in the Illinois contest for Vocational students. Robert Deaman and John Blackman rated in the upper 25 per cent of the 150 schools competing. Deaman stood sixth in the judging of wheat and 13th in the judging of soybeans. Blackman had a perfect score in identification of weed seeds and crops.

Leo Kelsler, Richard Triax and Raymond Wells represented the school in dairy cattle judging. Their work was good but they failed to place in the upper column.

Win in Chapter Contest

In an activity contest among 26 schools, the Antioch Chapter of Future Farmers won third place receiving a Future Farmers of America pennant.

SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR

This Man's Town is No Garbage Dump, Cop Tells Autoists

Caught in the act of dumping garbage on a vacant lot on north Main street here Sunday night, a party of autoists were stopped by Officer Childers who handed the men back their precious bundle of fish heads, vegetable parings and a choice assortment of left-overs from their day's picnic. That would not have been so bad had the paper container not burst and the garbage went pell-mell into the driver's lap. Then he was told to get out of town.

During Coach Childers' two weeks as traffic cop here he has found it necessary to warn over 200 drivers, including a state senator, for speeding. He has directed 162 tourists to stores, resorts and fishing waters. Such valuable data being collected during the summer will prove to be useful, Childers believes.

"Local drivers should set the example for the same kind of safe and sane driving that we expect from strangers," the coach told the News today. A most excellent idea, and it is believed no one will doubt the wisdom of such a course.

DROWNED WHEN BOAT SWAMPS IN LONG LAKE

Aurora Man Loses His Life While Trying to Aid Companions

Three survivors of a drowning tragedy which cost the life of one man in Long Lake told Coroner John L. Taylor at the inquest Sunday night of the fatal boat ride which the four-some had taken earlier in the day.

Thomas Moore, 30, of Aurora, was the one drowned when the motorboat in which they were cruising turned over as it made a sharp turn. Moore attempted to swim toward his companions who were struggling in the water when he apparently became exhausted and sank.

His body was recovered several hours later by volunteer rescuers. First aid treatment was given to J. B. Sittes, 4350 N. Winchester ave.; John Cain, 3938 W. 21st st., and Eric Van Eman, 4622 N. Wolcott st., all of Chicago.

All four men were employed in a Sears-Roback store in Chicago. They had come to Long Lake for a weekend outing. Moore had brought the motor with him and they had borrowed the boat from an acquaintance.

When the boat overturned the three survivors managed to cling to it until a rescue squad picked them up.

The officers who will guide the destinies of the club the coming year are: W. I. Scott, president; Dr. David N. Deering, 1st vice; Robert C. Abt, 2nd vice; R. L. Murrrie, 3rd vice; F. D. Powles, secretary-treasurer; G. W. Joedieke, tailwister; George Wagner, lion tamer; James Horan, O. E. Hackmeister, R. G. Holtz and W. A. Rosing, directors.

OLDEST CHURCH WILL OBSERVE CENTENNIAL

No. Prairie Church Founded 100 Years Ago; Stage Pageant

This year marks the centennial of the founding of one of the oldest country churches along the North Shore, the North Prairie, Illinois, Methodist Episcopal church, just south of the state line at Ninth street and Kenosha road.

The outstanding event of the week incident to the centennial celebration will be a pageant of ten scenes with a cast of 100 depicting community life from the coming of the first white man up to the present day. This will be staged on Friday night, June 24.

Centennial day, June 26, will conclude the week's events, when Dr. Fred Stone of Chicago will be the speaker.

First Church a Log Cabin
In October, 1837, Elder Salmon Stebbins, who also organized many churches in southeastern Wisconsin, held the first meeting in a log cabin on Green Bay Road near the state line. Later the services were held in the school house. The following year, 1838, the church organization was formed and it became a part of the Milwaukee District later being transferred to the Rock River Conference.

By 1843 the membership had increased to one hundred and it was decided to divide into three groups. From these groups grew the East Benton (now Zion M. E.) York House, and North Prairie churches.

In 1870 the organization had grown to such an extent that North Prairie was able to build a church building which was in use until it was struck by lightning in August 1923.

The following year, 1924, a modern building consisting of auditorium, Sunday School rooms, social rooms, gymnasium, and kitchen, was erected.

Sunday, June 19, will be Reunion Day, when many old residents and former pastors will be present. Ladies' Day will be Wednesday, June 22.

Mrs. Elmer Peterson and children and Mrs. Howard Gaston and daughters enjoyed a picnic at Bluff Lake Monday.

Dick Lyons Day at Fox Lake Will Be Testimonial to Popularity of Party Standard Bearer; Public is Invited

With an all-day barbecue and rally at Fox Lake on Saturday, June 18, the people around home are going to show all Illinois what they think of Dick Lyons, Republican nominee for United States Senator.

On that day Republicans from all parts of Illinois will head for the Fox Lake Country club to be guests at the Dick Lyons Day celebration. It will be a gigantic, old-fashioned barbecue. Republicans and the Democratic friends of Dick Lyons are invited. The invitations say the outing will be a tremendous testimonial to the party's standard bearer—the Dynamic Dick Lyons.

The outing is being sponsored by the Chairmen of every county in Illinois, the Ward and Township Committee in Cook county, and the Republican State Central Committee. It will be free to all. Special fares have been arranged on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, and trains will leave the Union Station, Chicago, at regular intervals, starting at 9:30 A. M. There will be a 4,000 pound beef, barbecued under the direction of professional chefs from Southern Illinois.

Acting on the Committee as Joint Chairmen are George F. Harding, Republican State National Committeeman; Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican State National Committeewoman; A. K. Stiles, Chairman of the State Central Committee; Edward F. Moore, Chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee; Charles A. O'Connor, President of the Republican County Chairmen's Association of Illinois; William Marks, Chairman of the Lake County Central Committee; Frank M. Kaltefleiter, Committeeman of the 38th ward, Chicago, and Charles Hacker, Manager of the Fox Lake Golf and Country club and prominent in Republican political circles. George F. Barrett, Committeeman of the 21st Ward, Chicago, is Secretary-Treasurer of the Committee.

Lakes To Receive More Tagged Prize Fish Here Sunday

Meet Again.... After 17 Years

Seventeen years ago Harold George was writing sports for an Omaha newspaper, and Dave Deering, as a track athlete, was burning up the cinder paths at universities throughout the country, cracking the ten-second mark for the 100-yard dash at every opportunity. The aspiring sports writer followed the fortunes and exploits of Deering and his teammates on the University of Nebraska track team when it made its coast-to-coast tour in 1921.

Deering finished his university course, obtained his M. D. degree and migrated to Chicago. Today he is one of Antioch's well-known practicing physicians and dynamic secretary of the local Lions club.

George got his big promotion when he landed with a metropolitan newspaper—the Chicago Evening American—still writing sports and about the great out-of-doors.

For the first time in 17 years the twain met again last Sunday on the occasion of the fish releasing at Fox Lake.

Boy Scout, 11, Rescues Sister At Indian Point

A Boy Scout, 11, was given credit for saving the life of his 9-year-old sister yesterday afternoon at Indian Point on Fox Lake.

The lad is Bertram Colbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Colbert, Sr., of Chicago, who is vacationing with his sister, Edith, at the home of their grandfather, Peter Brockman, at Indian Point.

Edith lost her balance in the high waves in the lake when the pair were swimming yesterday afternoon. Bertram, observing his sister struggling in the water, went to her rescue and managed to keep her up until she was rescued by George Jacobsen who was in a boat fishing near by. The victim was unconscious when first brought to shore, and the life saving squad for the Antioch Fire department was called, with Herman Rosing, Irving Elnis and Lew Van Patten responding to the call. The girl had been revived when the men arrived on the scene.

Bertram, as a Scout, had been given fine training in swimming, and it is reported that he has been of assistance in saving the lives of several other children at Fox Lake. His father is scoutmaster for a troop in Chicago.

Oil Heater Starts Fire in Cottage at Beach Grove

An oil burning hot water heater was the cause of a threatened fire in one of the cottages on the J. H. Leslie estate at Beach Grove on Lake Marie at 10 a. m. Saturday. Antioch firemen arriving on the scene found more smoke than fire and the small flames were brought under control with but small damage to the premises.

Jack Newman of Aurora was in Antioch on business, Wednesday.

WATERS TO TEEM WITH PRIZE MEMBERS OF OSCAR-FANNY FAMILY

Chicago American Sponsors Event; Lions Club Co-operates

The lakes around Antioch will be literally teeming with prize fish Sunday following the release of 173 tagged members of the finny tribe in local waters by the Chicago Evening American with the co-operation of the Antioch Lions club and the State Department of Conservation.

The latest consignment of 173 fish is in addition to the 104 released here May 22 by the Lions club and business men and resort owners of the region. The tagged fish are worth from $5 to $200, and one of them, says the Chicago Evening American, "may be Oscar, who is worth $1,000, or his wife, Fanny, who is valued at $500."

First Splash at 1:30

The first batch of the Antioch fish Sunday will be released off the east shore of Grass Lake near Ray Prenger's resort at 1:30 p. m. From there the boat chartered by the Antioch Lions club, which is co-operating with the Evening American, will go to Lake Killarney where the ceremonies will take place 15 minutes later. The schedule calls for releases at Petite Lake at 2:00; Spring Lake, 2:15; Bluff, 2:30; Marie, 3:00; Channel, 3:30, and the final splash at Lake Catherine at 4:00 o'clock.

Expect 30,000 Visitors
According to the American, Antioch will turn out en masse to greet the arrival of the famed fish from the Spring Grove hatchery, which is supplying them through the permission of Acting Director Thomas J. Lynch of the State Department of Conservation. Also accompanying the state launch will be Anthony Maggio, inspector of the Department of Conservation and James Lynch, assistant inspector. The American estimates that a crowd of over 30,000 persons will watch the proceedings.

The release Sunday will carry tags patterned after the ones designed by Dr. Deering, and will have a redemption value in cash of about $500.00. This release will bring the total prize money in local lakes, including the famous Oscar and Fanny, to approximately $3,900—a rich lure for anglers if there ever was one.

Only one catch of a prize fish was reported here last week, and none were reported from the Fox Lake area where a similar prize fish release took place last Sunday.

COUNTY SHRINERS ON PICNIC TODAY

Today is a big day for the Lake County Shrine Club—it's a picnic day for members and their guests at the Ferris Farm, near Lake Marie. The activities for the day include the usual picnic lunch, and a boat trip on the lakes, which will take them for a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Anderson.

According to Fred B. Swanson, president of the local Shrine club, there will be about 100 members present, which with the visiting Shriners from Medinah, Temple, will swell the number to 150. Among the visiting dignitaries will be Illustrious Noble Case L. Griffin, past potentate of Medinah, who officiated here last fall at the planting of Antioch's centennial tree. Attending that event were Shriners in large numbers with their band and entertainers. The friendly gesture will live long in the memory of residents here, assuring the Shriners of a royal welcome any time they visit this community.

This year's Illustrious Potentate of Medinah is Edward W. Shepard.

Former Pastor Picnics Here with 500 Children

Sure Proof

A great many people of our country today are "classifiers." They like to break up the population of the United States into groups called "businessmen," "farmers," and "laborers," and then pretend that there is no relation between these groups.

Then they go on to say that, since the farmer and the businessman, for instance, have no common interest, the only way either can get ahead is at the expense of the other.

The falsity of this idea can be demonstrated very easily by a single example:

Every automobile contains fifty-five pounds of cotton, and enough additional cotton has been used during manufacture to bring the total consumption per car to nearly 100 pounds.

In a busy year, one large automobile company alone supports about 150,000 cotton-producing families!

Isn't that sure proof of the interdependence of industry and agriculture—businessman and farmer?

A Liberal Recovery Program

Oswald Garrison Villard, former editor of The Nation and one of America's most distinguished liberals, has made a number of specific suggestions that he believes this government must follow if the depression is to be ended. Chief among his proposals are: A suspension of "reforms" in order that business may know where it stands and not be continually battered from pillar to post by unstable policies; the establishment of a fixed and definite policy toward the public utilities, so that this great industry may unleash the billions in spending power that have been dammed up because of fear of confiscation and unmeetable government competition; tax revision, and the assurance that thereafter there will be no more tax tinkering so long as the present Administration remains in power.

There can be hardly any question of the results of such a program. The doubts that have been so greatly responsible for the slackening of industrial expansion would be largely dispelled. Business and industry would feel a new surge of confidence that would be immediately reflected in reemployment. The investor, driven into financial hiding by well-justified fears of mad tax policies and a vacillating general policy on the part of government in its relation with business, would reappear with funds for progress.

Mr. Villard's program, in brief, is a recovery program, which calls for a return to fundamentals essential to prosperity in any nation.

Driver Training an Aid to Safety

With figures on automobile deaths and disasters constantly rising, the outlook for safety on the highway would seem rather gloomy except for the progress in safety education and driver training being made in Illinois and Indiana.

Seven high schools in the two states have already installed the Chicago Motor club's driver training course and many more are carrying on safety lectures and discussions. The forward strides taken to create safety-consciousness in youth indicate that the future prospects for higher driving standards and safer pedestrian practices are brighter than at any time since the invention of the automobile.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, points to three results this branch of safety education has achieved with high school students and their families which speak for the influence of the project.

First, and most gratifying, the records of former students who have secured driving permits prove that they avoid accidents more successfully than the average motorist.

In letters received from young people taking the courses, Mr. Hayes learned that while in the training period, students bring the text material home and impress upon their parents and other adults the need for greater care on the streets.

And, finally, traffic officials have found that driver training graduates possess better qualifications for driving than the average person, because of the background they receive before they attempt to drive.

A more valuable aid to safety in the streets has not been instituted since the traffic light system. We are correcting driver faults before they appear by this method, and thousands of accidents will never take place which would have occurred had these future motorists remained with the mass of ordinary drivers.

"—and Nothing But the Truth"

Not long ago in Washington a Senator introduced a bill which would make it a punishable offense to publish in a newspaper or magazine any statement "known to be untrue."

That leads us to reflect how often labor difficulties in the past several years might have been reduced if the true facts of the case had always been adhered to, and the public allowed to look them over.

In Philadelphia recently, after hearing the facts of one such case, the presiding judge himself drew up the wording of the sign that the pickets could carry, making it part of an injunction that they should carry his sign and no other if they wanted to picket.

The text prescribed by the jurist read as follows:

"This establishment is not unfair to organized labor. It is being picketed because of a labor dispute between the Bartenders' Union, Local No. 115, and the employees of this establishment concerning what organization shall be their bargaining agent."

Christian Endeavor Society. In addition to a set of dishes presented by the society, Grace received many beautiful and useful gifts from the guests present. Lesson for June 19

THE SUFFERING SERVANT

LESSON TEXT—Mark 15:22-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. Mark 10:45.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.
JUNIOR TOPIC—On Calvary.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Self-Sacrifice for Others.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Love's Supreme Sacrifice.

"A Christianity without a dying Christ is a dying Christianity. History shows us that the expansive and elevating power of the Gospel depend upon the prominence given to the sacrifice of the Cross. An old fable says that the only thing that melts adamant is the blood of a lamb. The Gospel reveals the precious blood of Jesus Christ, his death for us as a ransom, as the one power that subdues hostility, and binds hearts to Him" (Alexander MacLaren).

We consider today that darkest of all days in the history of the world—when wicked men with cruel hearts and hands crucified the loving Son of God. But, thanks be to God, it was also the day when bright hope shone forth for sinful humanity, for in His death Christ bore our sins upon the tree, the veil was rent, the old sacrifices were set aside, and the "new and living way" was opened into the "holiest by the blood of Jesus" (Heb. 10:20).

I. Crucified—That We Might Live (vv. 22-23).

The details of and circumstances surrounding the crucifixion are of deep interest to every Christian. We stand with Luther and weep as we see Christ's unspeakable agony, not only of body but of spirit, and we cry as did Luther, "For me, for me!" How can any believer contemplate the cross and withhold self, substance, or service from Christ?

Equally earnest and heart-searching is the message of the cross to the unbeliever. He knows he is a sinner (Rom. 3:23), he knows that "the wages of sin is death" (Rom. 6:23), and he knows that "neither is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Here at the cross he meets that one "who in his own self bore our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes we were healed" (1 Pet. 2:24). There were two malefactors who were crucified with Him, and one rallied at Him. The other said, "Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom"; and Jesus said to him, "Today thou shalt be with me in Paradise" (Luke 23:39-43). Unbeliever, who reads these lines, will you not just now take the eternal life which Jesus died to make possible for you?

II. Forsaken—That We Might Be Accepted (vv. 29-30).

The rolling head wagging, and other abuse that men heaped upon Jesus as He hung on the cross, must have been a grievous thing for His tender loving heart to bear. But it was as nothing compared with that hour when, covered with all the sin and curse of the world, He who knew no sin "was made sin for us" (II Cor. 5:21), and God turned away from Him.

We cannot fathom the full meaning of that hour, we dare not attempt to explain it, we can only accept it and thank God that because He did become sin for us we may be "made the righteousness of God in Him" (II Cor. 5:21).

III. A Vell Rent—That We Might Enter (vv. 37-39).

The death of Jesus was not the pitiful weakening of a human martyr. Here was the Son of God, crying with a loud voice (v. 37), giving up His spirit to the Father (Luke 23:46), declaring that the work of redemption was "finished."

As a visible indication of that part—and as a declaration that the old dispensation of law had given place to the dispensation of grace, God tore the temple veil in twain. Only He could have done it. No man could have torn this sixty-foot long, twenty-foot wide, and inch-thick curtain from top to bottom. It had hung in the temple to keep all but the High Priest out of the Holy of Holies, and he entered with fear and trembling but once a year as the representative of the people. Now all this is changed. We have now, "brothers, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil." Therefore, let us draw near with a true heart and full assurance of faith" (Heb. 10:19-22).

Homely Simile

He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under His wings shalt thou trust: His truth shall be thy shield and buckler.—Psalm 91:4.

Lolly Companionship

Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles.—Luke 9:33.

Power of Faith

I can do all things through Christ which strengthened me.—Phil. 4:13.

RARE MUSIC FOUND BY PITT PROFESSOR

Manuscripts 200 Years Old Discovered in Church.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—A cache of rare musical manuscripts, hidden for almost two centuries in a church in the village of Lilitz in eastern Pennsylvania's Lancaster county, has been discovered by Theodore M. Finney, lecturer in music at the University of Pittsburgh and director of Pitt's famed student band and the men's glee club.

Mr. Finney made his discovery last summer. He said the music had been written between the Revolutionary war and the War of 1812 by composers who were communists of the Moravian church whose members fled Germany to come to country around Bethlehem—and of course, to be dubbed "Pennsylvania Dutch."

None of the music—save what was written by the Moravian musicians before they migrated to America—has ever been published. It is in the classical tradition of Mozart and Haydn.

Some of the pieces are religious anthems. Others are in symphony and chamber music arrangements.

The Pitt teacher explained: "It is unusual—in violation of the tradition of its times—because in the Eighteenth century the churches of New England considered any music, except the singing of psalms, sinful."

"No one in New England would have dared suggesting an orchestra might play in a church. But in the little towns of eastern Pennsylvania it was done every Sunday."

A large percentage of the Moravians must have been skilled musicians, for many of the pieces Mr. Finney found would prove severe tests for the ability of even a professional of today.

Moravians liked music, he said, and indicated in their writings they didn't think much of the New England style of unaccompanied singing of hymns in which every member of the congregation carried what was his own idea of the tune. One Moravian critic referred to the Massachusetts church music as the "woeful shrieking and scuffling of the congregation."

He said the manuscripts will probably be turned over to the Moravian church's seminary at Bethlehem, and kept there.

Artificial Leg 39 Inches

Long Is Without an Equal

New Orleans.—The longest and largest artificial leg known to J. E. Hanger, Inc., artificial limb makers, has been sent to E. C. Bledsoe of Bastrop, La., 7 foot 8 inch giant. The leg is 39 1/4 inches long and weighs 9 pounds 9 ounces. The average artificial leg is 26 inches long. The shoe, which matches the one worn by Bledsoe, is size 22. The shoe is 15 1/2 inches long, 5 1/4 inches wide and weighs 2 1/2 pounds.

C. W. Appersun, manager of the firm, said in the 76 years the company had been in existence, records show it had never before been called upon to make such a large leg.

Bledsoe is forty-three years old, a farmer and woodsman. He weighs 267 pounds. He has removed the front seat of his automobile and drives from the rear seat.

A tree fell on him in November, 1936. Blood poisoning set in and the leg was amputated at about the middle of the calf.

The artificial leg, however, straggled to his knee and thigh.

New "Ps" and "Qs" Urged as an Aid to Composition

Buffalo.—The reason many people find it difficult to put their thoughts on paper is that their handwriting cannot keep up with their ideas, according to Dr. Walter V. Kaulfers, of Stanford university, who advocates "streamline English" spelling and handwriting.

Dr. Kaulfers told the National Council of Teachers of English, which held its annual meeting here, that he favored a system of shorthand and simplified spelling.

"How much better it would be if we could be taught from the start to use a kind of shorthand that would make it possible for any one to write down an idea as fast as he could think," he said.

Onions and Garlic Found Useful to Fight Disease

Albany.—Dr. Daniel V. O'Leary, Albany health commissioner, contends that onions and garlic are useful in combating infectious diseases because of their immunity to bacterial attack.

"The chemicals in onions and garlic," he asserted, "which bring tears to the eyes, are now found to have germ-killing powers."

The chemicals have been isolated by Dr. Richard E. Vollrath, professor of physics, and Dr. Carl C. Lindgren, chairman of the bacteriological department of the University of Southern California, Dr. O'Leary said.

Minima . . . Maximal!

MOST of the species of nature have dwarf members and giant members, but there is no elephant small enough to walk on another elephant's head; no eagle tiny enough to perch on another eagle's beak. CHOOSING the site. Before obtaining the drawings of a house, many things should be considered that will have a direct effect upon the design of the building. First, the site should be studied with reference to its surroundings and its probable future development. Its convenience to neighboring cities or towns should be considered, as well as means of public transit, service in the matters of light, power, gas, electricity, sewage, water supply, garbage disposal, etc. The owner should be reasonably sure that the property in the vicinity will develop so as to increase in value and beauty.

The parts of which a house consists may be considered under three different groups: living, sleeping and service groups.

The living group includes the living room, dining room, library, den, porch, and other parts of the house that are used for the comfort and enjoyment of the family and guests.

The sleeping group comprises bedrooms, sleeping porches, bathrooms, closets, etc., all of which parts should be conveniently grouped as far as possible.

The service group consists of the kitchen, pantry, store-rooms, laundry, cellar, etc., all of which parts should be conveniently grouped as far as possible.

Signal Horn From Tusk

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 12.

The Golden Text was, "As birds fly, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it" (Isaiah 31:5).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young" (Isaiah 40:10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the Life, or Intelligence, which forms and preserves the individuality and identity of animals as well as of men" (p. 350).

Urge Rest, Good Food,
Fresh Air for Speedy
Cure of Tuberculosis

The regular weekly chest clinic sponsored by the Lake County Tuberculosis Association will be held Wednesday morning at St. Theresa hospital in Waukegan from 8 to 11 A. M. New patients desiring examination are requested to make appointment at the office of the association—Majestic 1805. Examination is free to anyone unable to pay for such service.

The treatment and cure of tuberculosis has been likened to a pyramid. The top of the pyramid, or the goal toward which all tuberculosis patients build, is the cure of the disease. The three corners of the base of the pyramid upon which the cure is built are called Rest, Good Food and Fresh Air. Without any one of the three the pyramid is out of balance, does not have a firm foundation, and may topple over before cure is reached.

The most important corner is rest. Fresh air is stimulating but it has no influence upon the disease process, or the germs within the lung. Good food for the tuberculous consists simply of diversified, wholesome, full caloric meals served three times a day. Stuffing is to be avoided.

Physical and mental rest cure tuberculosis because the injured lung demands rest for repair, just as rest heals any injured part of the body. Ten shallow breaths per minute are taken by one flat in bed, as compared with 25 breaths when walking and 50 deep breaths when running. Best rest provides for shallow breathing and less strain for the tender scar tissue in the lung which the patient is striving to repair.

Earlier in the game Dack's team held a 7-2 lead, but the home team tied the count in the ninth when Nelson stole home with the run that sent the battle into extra innings. Hughes and Schneider were the leading sluggers for the Aces.

BLACK AND WHITE
TO BE ON PARADE
AT WOODWORTH SHOWKenosha Holstein Breeders
Announce Production
Show June 24

"Stars of the Milky Way," 100 of them, and the choicest of Kenosha county's Holstein cattle will be on display at the annual Black & White production show to be held on Friday, June 24, at Woodworth, Wis., under the sponsorship of the Kenosha County Holstein Breeders association.

Not only will visitors see the aristocrats of the milk production world, but there also will be judging contests, ladies milking contest, type classification, machinery and dairy equipment exhibits and a bull-throwing and hoof trimming demonstration.

There will be a picnic, a band concert and free milk. The public is invited to attend.

Milk Heavier Than Cream

Milk is heavier than cream. Cream in milk rises to the surface because it is composed of infinitesimal drops of oil and fat which are lighter than the remainder of the milk. The rising of cream is not at first apparent because the drops are very small and they come up slowly.

FARM TOPICS

WILDLIFE AIDS IN CHECKING EROSION

Animals Devour or Trample Scanty Pasture.

Supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

One great difference between domestic and wild birds and animals is the effect they have on the land, particularly on soil erosion. It is common for farmers to pasture fields already injured by erosion—gullied land too rough for machine tillage or patches where running water has taken most of the topsoil. On such land, pasture is likely to be scanty. If cattle, sheep or hogs are turned in they usually devour or trample such vegetation as may be left, says Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson of the bureau of biological survey. This increases the erosion damage.

Wildlife, in contrast, lives in and with the natural vegetation that develops in these rough areas not suitable for cropping. Rarely do creatures of the wild contribute to erosion. Rather, they allow vegetation to develop and hold the soil. Farmers can help, too, says Doctor Gabrielson, by seeding or planting quick-growing plants and trees that are soil binders and also provide cover and food for game. Catering slightly to the feeding and nesting habits of the game will attract birds and animals and increase the game crop which sportsmen will be glad to harvest—and pay for the privilege.

Domestic animals are likely to further destroy land that has been injured by cultivation. The same land devoted to wildlife will be preserved and even improved. This contrast often points out the difference between good management and poor management of the rougher and less fertile parts of a farm.

Hens Have Colds; Roup More Severe Infection

Much that is called roup is more of the nature of colds and the fowls affected will recover if given clean, dry quarters, free from direct drafts but with ample ventilation, advises an expert in the Rural New-Yorker.

True roup is a more severe infection and it cannot be said that any remedy known to poultrymen is efficacious to cure it. Any sick birds should be removed from contact with the healthy members of the flock to prevent spread of the infection. A fowl showing roup in at all severe form is of little or no value, and usually may be disposed of to the advantage of flock and owner.

It should be borne in mind, however, that all colds are not roup and that recovery from the former under good care may give an unwarranted reputation for value to whatever is used in treatment.

Minerals for Hens

The lime needed by laying hens is cheaply and satisfactorily supplied in crushed oyster shells. A limestone grit may also be used as a source of this element. Milk and the meat scrap, customarily made part of the poultry ration, add other minerals and the addition of iron, sulphur, iodine, etc., as separate ingredients, lacks demonstration of its necessity, if nothing more. While minerals are essential elements of a poultry ration, they are found in the grains and supplements commonly fed, as they are also in the grains and roughage of dairy feeds.

Bone Meal Valuable

Many experiments have been conducted throughout the world to determine the availability of calcium and phosphorus in different forms. Results show that sterilized bone meal is as available as other chemical forms that are soluble in water. Feeding large quantities of mineral to animals that they do not require may be definitely detrimental. Indications of mineral deficiency should be taken up with the agricultural experiment station, where such problems can be investigated and recommendations made according to the requirements.

Weeds Add to Expenses

Weeds are expensive. It is estimated that they cost on the average, $2 per tillable acre of soil. That means that on a 100-acre farm, the loss would amount to $200, a sum that would go for toward paying the taxes on that land. The loss caused by weeds includes not only yields, but also much extra labor, dockage in marketing, poisoning of live stock and increase in plant diseases and insect pests harbored by weeds.

Nests for Turkeys

Where breeding plans include only making the best of things at hand, a good kind of nest for turkeys is the simply constructed A-type coop, according to a poultryman in the Los Angeles Times. In placing these coops for hens, a depression should be scooped in the ground under them and, if the weather is dry, three or four gallons of water should be poured in each hole several days before inking up the nest. This is to provide a supply of moisture.

THIEF APOLOGIZES, GIVES UP PISTOL AND FOLLOWS GIRL

Bookkeeper Keeps Her Nerve in Encounter With Armed Holdup Man.

Boston.—By keeping her nerve in an encounter with a holdup man carrying a revolver, Miss Corinne bookkeeper for the College Hand laundry, not only talked the invader out of robbing the place but induced him to apologize and surrender his weapon.

The girl had just distributed a $400 pay roll to the laundry employees and was alone in the office, sitting with her back to the door, when the would-be robber entered. In front of her was an envelope containing $50 of the company's money and a handbag containing $29 of her own.

The intruder pressed a revolver against her back, saying: "This is a stick up. Hand over the money."

Miss Gagnon stood up, turned, and faced the gun.

"What's the matter with you—crazy?" she said. "There's no money here. You can't get away with this. If I yell this place will be full of people in a couple of seconds."

Outlaw Astonished by Manoeuvr.

The bandit was so surprised he was unable to speak for a minute. Then he commanded:

"Open that safe."

With a bold air, the girl strode to the safe, flung open the door and, talking loudly to the hope those in the laundry would hear her, said:

"There you are, mister. You can see for yourself there's not a cent there. What do you want to go around holding up people for, anyway? Say, if you're so hard up, I'll give you a couple of dollars of my own."

This virtually dazed the robber, who stood holding the gun and looking as if he didn't know whether to leave or stay. This only increased Miss Gagnon's courage and she continued:

"What you need's a job. I'll get the boss. Come on. I won't say a word about this."

Obediently he followed her from the office into the laundry and right up to the owner, Abraham Morad.

"Mr. Morad, this man tried to hold me up," said Miss Gagnon.

Owner's Turn to Be Astonished.

It was Morad's turn to be astounded. As he looked at the man and saw the gun, which the bandit was now trying to hide under his coat, the gunman said:

"She's right, but I didn't rob her. She didn't have anything. I couldn't go through with it. She could see I need a job."

"Don't you know the consequences, don't you know you could go to prison?" asked the girl.

"Sure," said the robber. "Here, take this gun before I get into trouble. I'm sorry I tried it. I haven't eaten for two days."

"Why don't you get on the WPA?" asked Morad.

"O, there's too much red tape, and besides I'm a Republican."

But the prolonged conversation was annoying him. He was beginning to get fearful. The laundry workers were edging close and listening. With sudden determination he dashed for the door and escaped.

Resolute Woman Is Pried Out of Two Automobiles

Mount Clemens, Mich.—Two one-woman sit-down strikes took place the other day near here. In both cases the sitters was Mrs. Joseph Hodiak.

Her first one-woman strike was in the automobile of her husband, a Detroit factory worker, which Constable Alfred D. Vincent of St. Clair Shores attempted to seize for non-payment of a judgment for $198.05.

For hours the constable, with several assistants, attempted to eject her from the locked automobile, parked at her home.

When all other efforts failed the constable called a wrecking car, which towed the automobile and its passenger to a garage. There one door was pried open and, as the constable described it later, Mrs. Hodiak was pried off the steering wheel.

The siege ended, Mrs. Hodiak was taken in a police car to her home. When she refused to leave the police car, George Collins, chief of police of Warren township, took her to Mount Clemens, where she was registered on a charge of disturbing the peace. The next day, however, Justice of the Peace Edgar I. Moses, who granted the judgment last October and the subsequent writ of execution, ordered her released without charge.

Police Found Robbed

Dallas.—City police investigated themselves when it was discovered that a car stored at the city pound had been stripped.

Give Lives for Pets

Washington, N. J.—Simone Smith and his wife Anna had refused to go to the county home because they would have to give up their dogs and cats. One of the pets overturned an oil lamp and started a fire in which the elderly couple burned to death.

Boston.—One ear partly bitten off equaled $2,000 when Joseph Ryan was awarded that sum in a damages suit against his landlord.

NIMROD RECOUNTS REVENGE OF BEAR FOR LOSS OF CUB

Offspring Hit by Speeding Car,
Enraged Mother Craftily
Sets Trap.

Passadumkeag, Maine.—Peletiah Hooper, silent forest sleuth and reputed slayer to date of 116 bears, seldom has much to say on any subject, but he surprised the circle around the stove at the general store with an exciting story in two chapters, which might be entitled "The Bear's Revenge."

This narrative began on a sad note—the death of a bear cub under the wheels of a racing auto as, with its mother and twin brother, it was crossing the highway a mile or two below this village.

Peletiah had witnessed the tragedy and noted upon the old bear's face an expression of mingled grief and rage as she cuffed the body of her baby into the roadside bushes. Then came the exciting Part Two: Let Peletiah tell it:

Gets Exciting.

"Just a few rods up from where the old b'ar went into the bushes, an' standin' close to the road, was a big spruce, with the old stub (dead trunk) lodged ag'in it.

"Well, sir, you can believe me or not, but it's gospel truth—that old b'ar she floundered up to that there stub an' puttin' her shoulder ag'in it brought it down, slam bang, right across the road.

"Well, sir, I never see the like, an' for some time I sat there, wonderin' what the old b'ar was up to. Then, graverly it begun to look through me that she was after revenge on the sports that killed her cub. She was a blockin' of the road ag'in the time they'd come back.

"I was gone a couple of hours, an' when I come back along, cuss me if that old b'ar an' her one cub wasn't a settin' there in the edge of the bushes as though they expected company. When I went past they never budged, an' havin' no gun, I come right along an' left them to tend to their own business.

"I hadn't got more'n ten rods further along towards the village, when I heard the greatest tootin', an' lookin' ahead I see the gas waggin' a-streakin' it down the road.

Old Bear Gets Square
"Here," says I, "is where the old b'ar gets square," an' I hustled back down the road. It's a thick growth along there, an' hard to see anythin' 'cept in broad daylight, so 'fore the sports knew it they were right onto that big stub.

"I was just near enuff to see what happened without gettin' hit with any of the wreck. First I heard a yell, then a bump, an' then come a smashin' an' crashin' like breakin' in a jam on the west branch of the Penobscot.

"That masheen jest riz up like a batteau on a rock, an' in a minute the air was full of it. The two sports, they shot out ahead an' landed face down in the road.

"One wheel sailed off into the brush an' one of them rubbered hoops that they have on the rim hopped up an' hung on a branch. It was the completest wreck I ever see of anything, and you could smell benzine a mile away.

"Jest as I come up I could hear a crashin' away off in the berry patch. It was the old b'ar an' her cub, goin' off, satisfied, I s'pose, at havin' done a good job an' got square.

"This fall," concluded the boss hunter, "I'm a-goin' after that b'ar. If I get her I'll know her, for she'll smell of benzine."

Big Dog Turns Tables on Drivers of Pound Wagon

Carmel, Pa.—A ferocious shepherd dog turned the tables on Walt Bennett and Sid Wilson, drivers of the dogpound wagon for the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Wilson noticed the dog on the street and opened the wagon's cab door, whereupon the dog leaped into the driver's cab with such ferocity that the two men jumped out, slamming the door behind them. The dog, in possession of the driver's seat, kept the two men at bay for an hour before they succeeded in getting it to retreat.

Will Bequeathing Clock Says It Can't Be Stopped

Philadelphia.—The late J. Darlington Jones, stipulated in his will that a grandfather's clock that had been in his family for five generations must continue to tick for future generations.

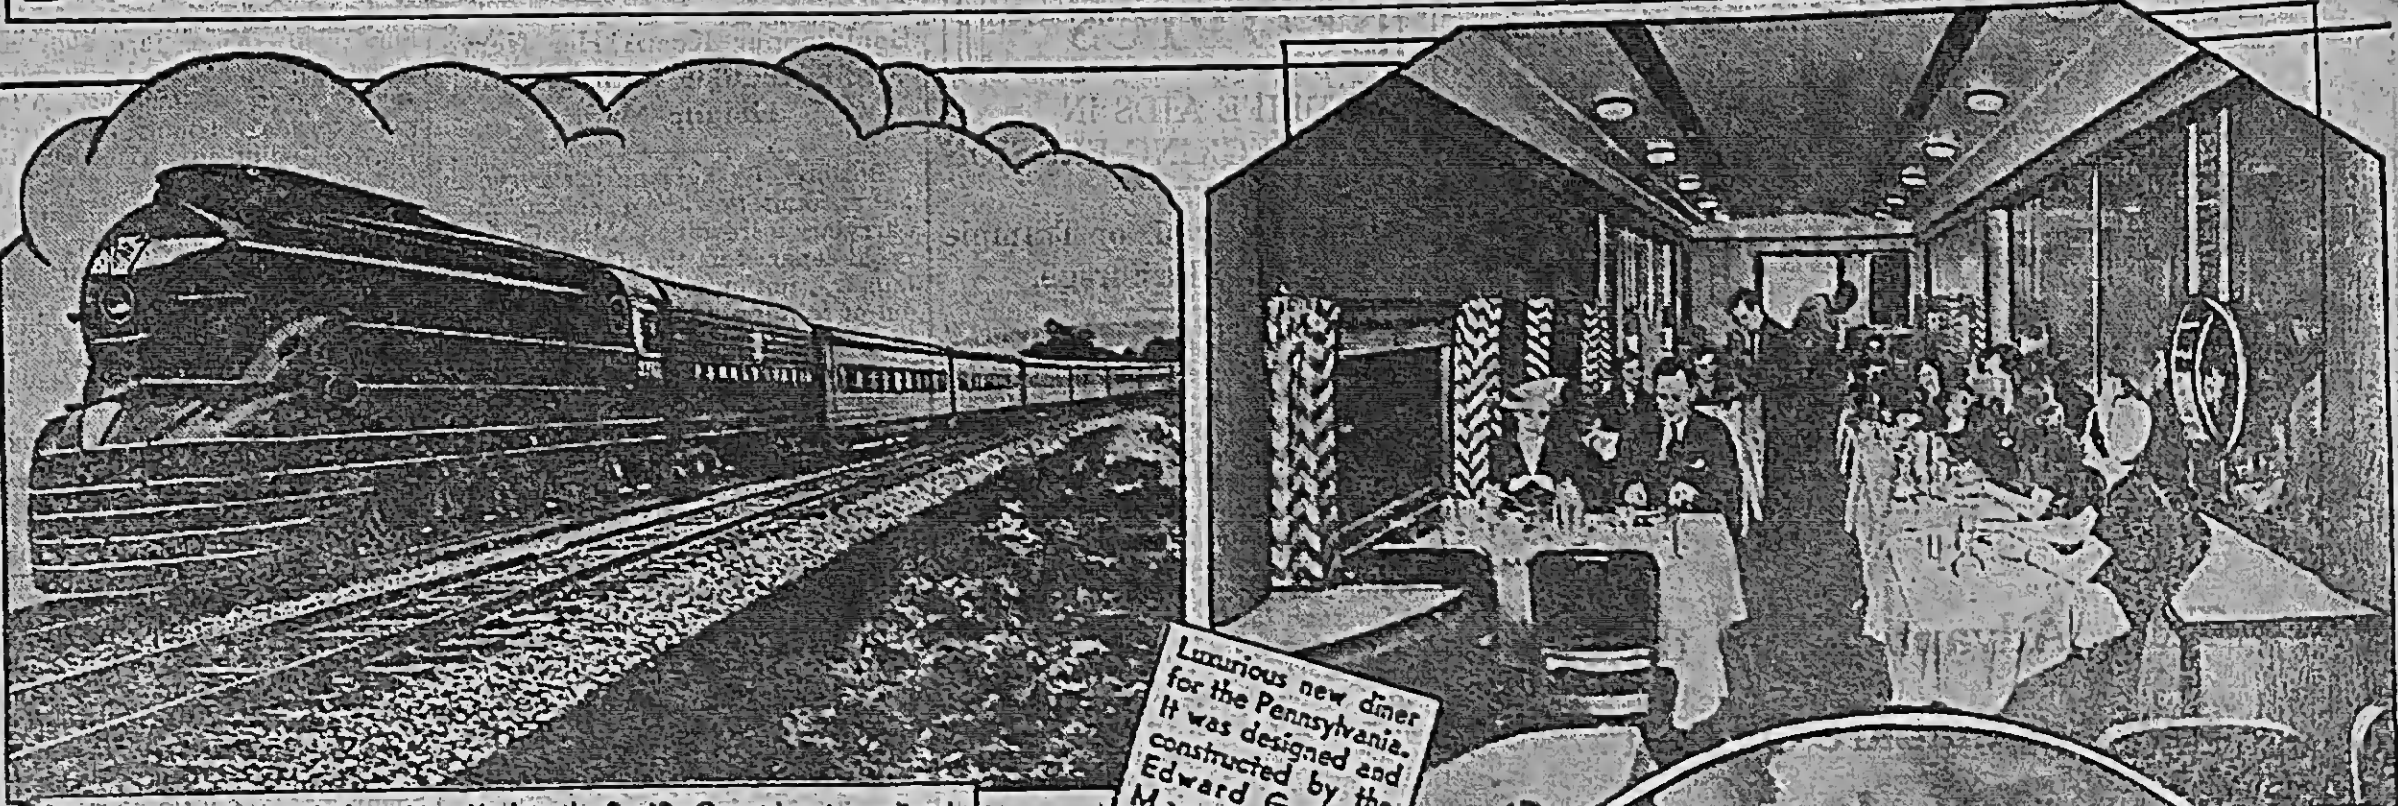

The will bequeathed the 150-year-old clock to a son, Thomas D. Jones of Detroit.

"It shall never be sold, but shall be handed down to one of his male children or to one of his nearest relatives named 'Jones,' the will read.

Two Languages Are Mixed; Now a Double Wedding

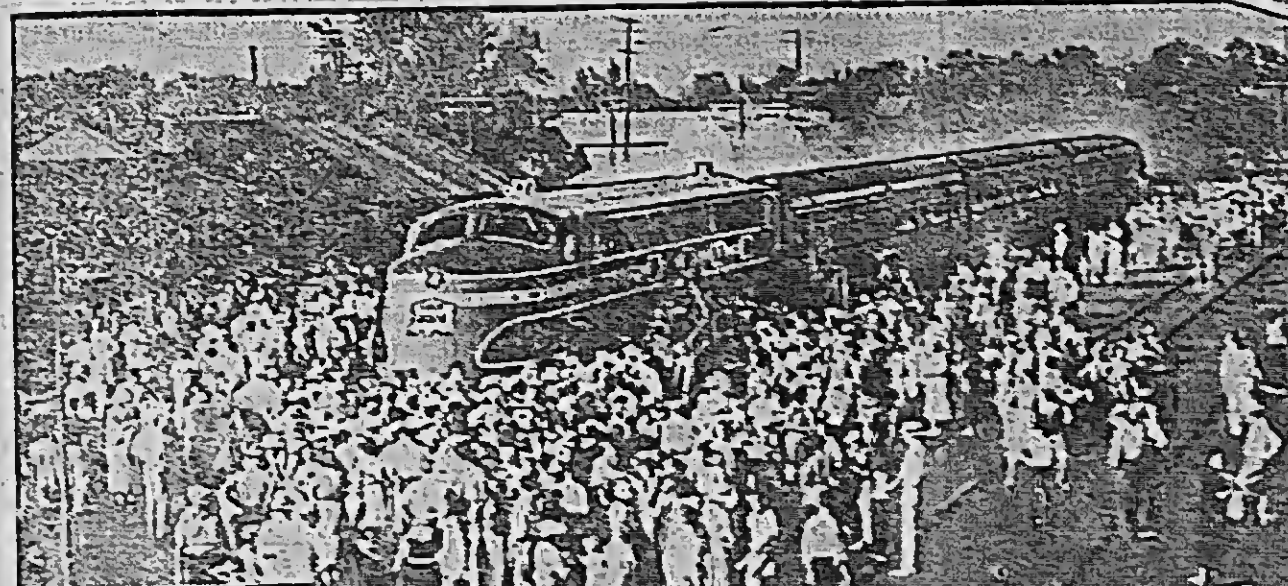

London.—Cupid proved an apt interpreter between two Spanish girls and a pair of English boys. In a Basque refuge in the north of England two pretty fugitives from Bilbao could speak only six words of English. At a dance they met two words of Spanish. Subsequent meetings proved that love is love in any language. Reports here say that a double wedding is planned.

Streamlined Train Service NOW SPANS COUNTRY

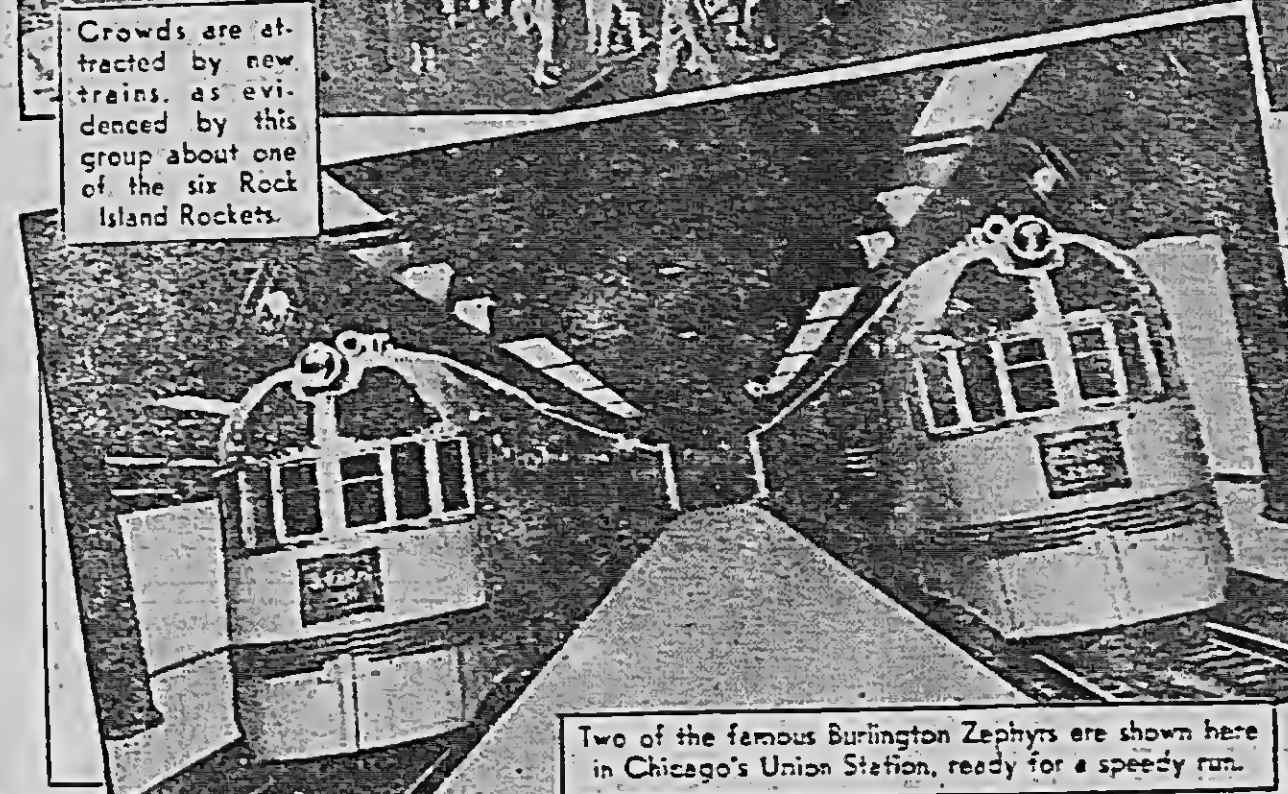

Travelers now may ride from New York to the Pacific Coast by streamlined train. This new Broadway Limited, fleet leader of the Pennsylvania, cuts the New York-Chicago schedule to 16 hours.

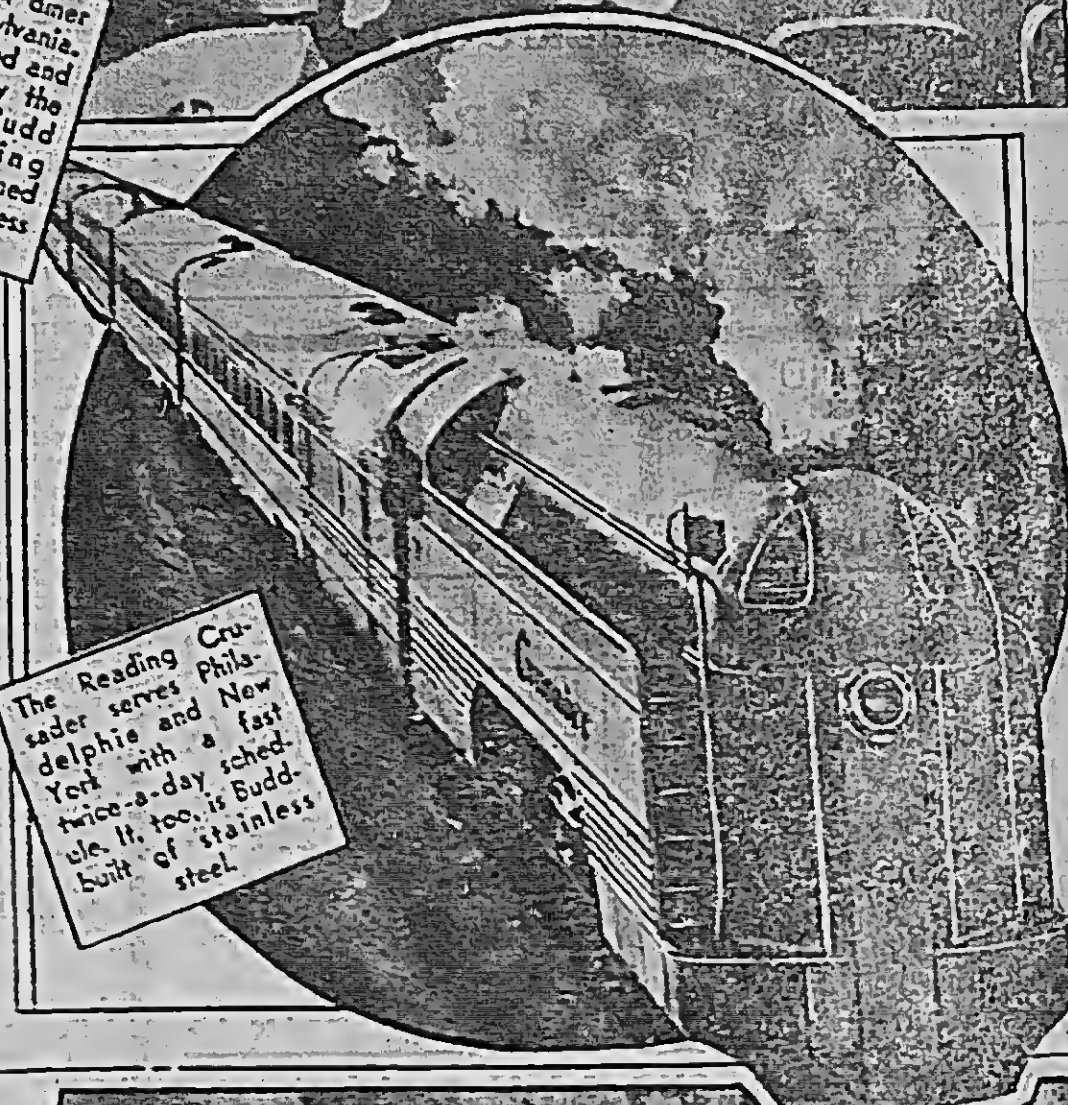

Luxurious new dmer for the Pennsylvania. It was designed and constructed by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company, famed builders of stainless steel rail cars.

Crowds are attracted by new trains, as evidenced by this group about one of the six Rock Island Rockets.

Two of the famous Burlington Zephyrs are shown here in Chicago's Union Station, ready for a speedy run.

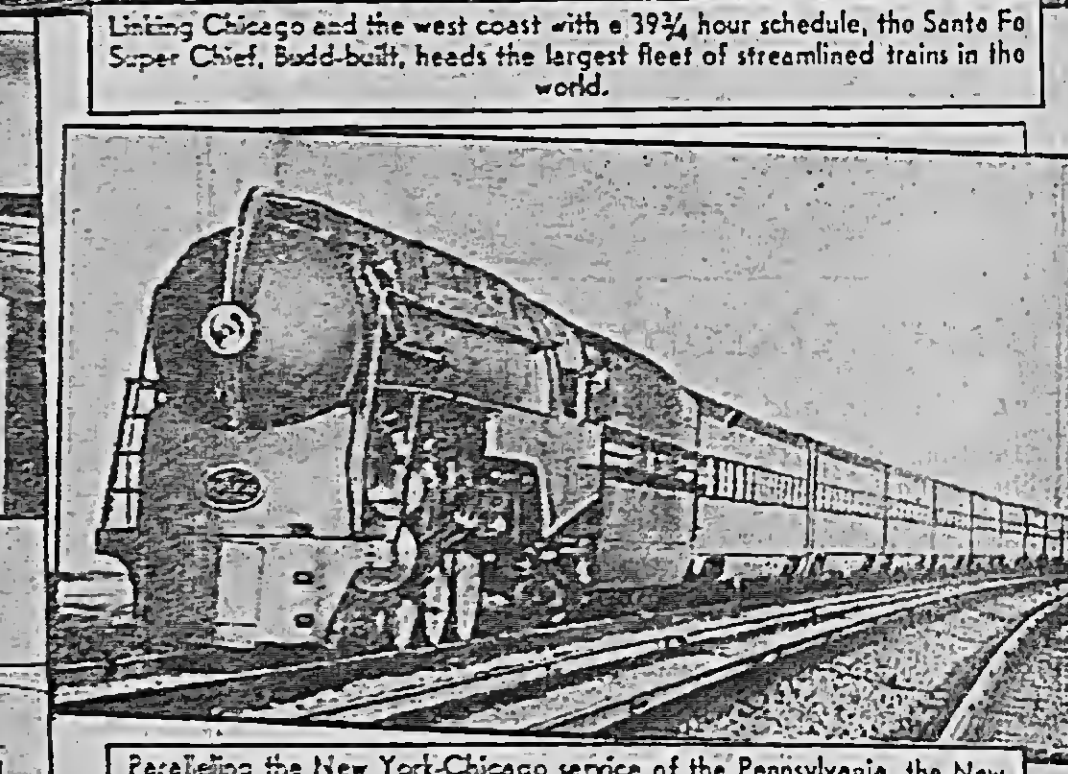

The Reading Crusader serves Philadelphia and New York with a fast twice-a-day schedule. It, too, is Budd-built of stainless steel.

Linking Chicago and the west coast with a 39 1/2 hour schedule, the Santa Fe Super Chief, Budd-built, heads the largest fleet of streamlined trains in the world.

Competent and attractive hostesses aid travelers to enjoy their journey on streamliners. Here is a spacious, comfortable chair car on one of these modern trains.

Paralleling the New York-Chicago service of the Pennsylvania, the New York Central adds this new Twentieth Century Limited. In trial runs this train hit 105 miles an hour.

Marine Sunfish Fast Grower

The marine sunfish (Mola mola) surpasses all other animals in its ability to grow. Although smaller than the head of a carpet tack when born, says Collier's Weekly, it has been known to tip the scales at 1,500 pounds when matured, or 60,000,000 times heavier than its original birth weight.

Most Widely Inscribed Palindrome

The most widely inscribed palindrome, or phrase spelled the same backward as forward, is a Greek motto of 25 letters which means "Wash my transgressions, not only my face" and which is carved on the fountains of many Christian churches throughout the world.—Collier's Weekly.

Elects President Each Year

In Switzerland each year the national assembly elects a member of the federal council to serve as president. He is ineligible for a consecutive term.

Boys First Phone Operators

The first operators of the telephone switchboard installed in New Haven, Conn., in 1878, were boys. Ahoy-ahoy was used instead of the customary hello.

Dangers Faced by Archeologists

Very real are the dangers archeologists often must risk. In Egypt they face sudden sandstorms, fierce heat; in Tibet, suspicious, hostile natives; in Central America, disease and deadly snakes; in most places, ordinary thieves, seeking valuable jewels of other civilizations. Yet their diggings have added page after page to ancient history, brought to light many interesting facts. Some of these: There were cities of half a million inhabitants in prehistoric times; Cretans, 4,000 years ago, had bathtubs much like modern ones; Roman boys scrawled slang on house-walls 2,000 years ago.

Milk Heavier Than Cream

Milk is heavier than cream. Cream in milk rises to the surface because it is composed of infinitesimal drops of oil and fat which are lighter than the remainder of the milk. The rising of cream is not at first apparent because the drops are very small and they come up slowly.

Meaning of Non-Partisan

The accepted meaning of non-partisan is not belonging to any party or faction, an independent in politics.

The British Parliament

Like the congress of the United States, the British parliament legislates for the whole British nation. But in addition to this, it takes the place of the separate legislative bodies that used to exist in Scotland and Ireland, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland, such as in this country can only be made by state legislatures. With regard to the Dominion of Canada, the Australian provinces, and other colonial possessions with legislatures of their own, the powers of parliament are somewhat analogous to those of congress here in the states.

Trees Manufacture Own Food

The food on which a dormant tree feeds and which causes it to grow is manufactured in the summer. The mineral salts from the ground are transformed in the leaves, which become food factories through the action of air and light. Part of this reserve food is stored in stems, limbs, trunk and roots. In the winter this reserve is drawn upon to sustain life in the cells.

Regarded Disbelievers as Witches

Almost to the Nineteenth century, a part of the Christian world, including many famous persons, still regarded disbelievers in witches as atheists, says Collier's Weekly.

Found Long Lost Orphan

Once one of the rarest orchids in the world, the Orchidaceae, or Vanda long-limbata, is perhaps as lady's slipper, although in numbers so such an extent that at one time there was only one specimen known to be in existence in the Western Hemisphere. No one knew where the original collector had stumbled across the rarity, and a London firm offered 1,000 pounds for a specimen of the "lost" orchid. After a lapse of years a civil engineer working in Nepal came across the long sought bloom growing naturally in the tropical jungle. He sent a runner out of Nepal to England, where the tree now grows.

"Licking Cub into Shape"

The phrase "licking a young cub into shape," may appear modern, yet a Twelfth century bestiary gives a vivid illustration of the process, for the bear's offspring are said to be born shapeless lumps, and then molded into form by their mother's tongue.

Naming Tulane University

Tulane university in New Orleans is named for Paul Tulane, for many years a merchant of New Orleans, who gave generously for the higher education of young people in that city.

Borghum, the Soul-Star

Solon Hannibal Borghum was born in Ogden, Utah, on December 22, 1823. He studied under Louis F. Robison in the Cincinnati Art school and under Premier in Paris. He took as his early subjects cowboys, Indians and other figures of Western life, notable works being his "Last Round-Up" and "Burial on the Plains." In 1911 he completed his bronze, "God's Command to Retreat," representing Napoleon on horseback. Two statues of his in stone were unveiled in 1920 in the churchyard of St. Mark's in the Bowery, New York city. He was Y. M. C. A. secretary with the French army in 1918, won the Croix de Guerre, and later was with the A. E. F. in France. He died in 1922.

Beauty for Housewife Lies in Daily Tasks

We admire the busy homemaker who has spirit enough to want to keep her figure young and is willing to spend extra time and effort on her appearance so her face will be a free at dinner time as it was in the morning.

Any woman who has kept her figure knows how damaging household tasks can be to the looks, and she is anxious to protect herself as much as possible against the hazards of house-keeping. Her figure, hands, complexion and eyes may suffer from housework unless she knows how to protect them.

Figures first, for they probably suffer most. If you are a housekeeper, you may say, "Don't tell me to exercise, I get enough of that already." But do you get enough of the right kind of exercise? Most household tasks are done with such poor posture that they actually cause poor carriage and unsightly bulges of fat.

Test your figure by backing up to the wall and standing with head up, not pressed forward, but back and up. Pull your abdomen in and up, make your whole spine touch the wall, relax your shoulders, but keep them perfectly flat against the wall.

Perhaps you cannot touch the wall all the way down at first, but keep at it. Now, keeping your body as nearly as you can in this first line, walk away from the wall. Keep this line when you work.

When you stoop to pick up something or to brush something into the dust pan, drop to one knee and bend forward from the hips so you can reach it without curving your spine. Have a stool that is just right for your kitchen table so you can sit comfortably while you are preparing your vegetables or ironing. Have brooms and dust mops with handles the right length so you can stand up as you work, not strain forward. Hold your stomach muscles tense as you make the bed. Keep your knees stiff as you bend over so the thigh and waist muscles get a work-out. When you reach for something high on a shelf stretch just an inch taller than necessary. Stretching is a splendid exercise for slimming the waistline.

If you are overweight, even a few pounds do something about that. First, stop lingering at the breakfast table for another cup of coffee or an extra roll. Plan a simple lunch for yourself at a regular hour each day. Try a soup, or a large salad of raw vegetables with two or three crackers with fresh or canned fruit and a cup of tea, will make a satisfying lunch. Then you can enjoy a regular dinner with your family. Try to plan your daily tasks so you can have a break walk out of doors daily. Just before starting dinner, have a quick clean-up facial, brush your hair and lie down for 10 minutes with your feet propped up on a pillow. After that, apply fresh makeup, brush your hair into place and put on a smart little sports dress. If you are sensible about your housework and plan your program so you will have a few minutes to yourself, you can greet your home-hungry husband as though you hadn't a care in the world.

Byron Wrote Speedily
Lord Byron, the English poet, was one of those fortunate beings to whom genius came easily, and was therefore little appreciated. He wrote the book, "The Corsair," in 10 days, the "Bride of Abydos" in four days, and another while undressing after balls and masquerades.

Corrects Air Conditions
Throughout the Entire House

• Give yourself and your family cooler bedtime comfort this summer with an Attic Fan Nighttime Cooling System. Here's how simply it works: Open your windows in the cool of the evening. With the Attic Cooling System at work, out goes the hot daytime air and the blanket of stuffy air that collects in the attic—and in comes cool, fresh night air, usually 15 to 20 degrees cooler in this part of the country—cool air circulates through the house till you get up. In the morning shut the windows to store up the cool air from the night before. Your house will be cooler 24 hours of the day!

What could be easier to operate? And it's easy to own, too! . . . Ask about the special payment terms on an Attic Cooling System for your home. Visit your Public Service Company office today for complete details.

To cover interest and other costs, a somewhat higher price is charged for appliances sold on deferred payments.

Other dealers are making attractive offers on air-conditioning units. Visit their stores NOW.

Man Invents by Watching Nature

MAN has invented ingenious machines for doing the things he sees nature do. Here magnified 70 times by Doctor Croy, famous physicist of Germany, are two photographs. The left picture shows you what man's finest woven material, crepe georgette, looks like through the microscope's eyes. The right photograph is of a silk spider's cocoon, also magnified 70 times. Man still has a long way to go before he can invent a machine that will weave as delicately as the spider's "needle."

Deserving Democrats Can Do No Wrong: 8 Get Probation For Extortion From W.P.A. Workers; Did They Lose Jobs?

Eight W. P. A. officials have been found guilty in Chicago of extorting money from W. P. A. workers and a court placed them upon probation.

Could there be anything more contemptible than public officials grafting by extortion upon unfortunate people working under them on W. P. A. projects?

And how assinine it becomes to have them released upon probation because the offenders, it was represented to the court, had heretofore borne good reputations. All the more reason why they should have been punished commensurately with their offenses.

The offenders knew better. They were engineers, assistant engineers, time-keepers, assistant superintendents and an accountant. Probation to them is like a slap upon the wrist and an admonishment not to do it again.

The newspaper articles do not tell whether any or all of them lost their jobs. If they did they will be back on them or some other public payroll before long. Deserving Democrats can do no wrong.

G-Man "Investigates" American Fathers

J. Edgar Hoover, C. F. B. I., Gives His Views on Parenthood

J. Edgar Hoover, hero of every American boy and Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, gives a G-Man's advice to parents, in an article by himself and Herbert Corey published in the current issue of Woman's Day Magazine.

Although a bachelor, there is probably no man in the United States better qualified to discuss children, for he has had more experience than any other person in the world with men who were brought up wrong as boys.

Mr. Hoover says the whole matter of good citizenship revolves around the single proposition of honesty, and for that reason he would put truthfulness first in dealing with a child. If he had a son, Mr. Hoover says, he'd tell him the truth, encourage him to join the Boy Scouts, have him go to church, give him duties to perform, and urge him to take part in good rough games.

"If I had a son, I'd swear to do one thing," Mr. Hoover writes in Woman's Day. "I'd tell him the truth. I'd never let him catch me in a lie because I wouldn't tell him any lies. I would not skimp the truth, either. That might be a trial at times, for little boys are sometimes very inquisitive and persistent. Some of the thousands who visit the display rooms of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will certainly grow up to be cross-examiners.

"This matter of the whole truth, is doubly important because every boy is a hero-worshiper. His inclination is to look up to his father as head of the house, a repository of all knowledge, the universal provider, the righteous judge. He cannot do so if he's continually catching his father in half-truths. A liar is a weakening and a boy admires his strength. No matter how difficult it might be, I'd tell my boy the truth.

"And in return I'd insist that he tell the truth. That might be hard to enforce. But though some scientists have said that all children are born liars, it's certain that the courageous telling of truth is a character-builder. If my son broke a rule and told the truth I wouldn't punish him. But if he tried to take advantage of me by covering deliberate mischief with a cloak of truth I'd show him that's cheating—and penalize him for it.

"Each year a parade of rogues passes under the eyes of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They're of all sorts—handsome, old, young, rich, ragged, plausible, murderers, thieves, forgers. They're alike only in one thing: They're all liars.

"The whole matter of good citizenship revolves around the simple proposition of honesty. A truthful boy is an honest boy. And an honest boy grows into a successful man. A thief can't be truthful; he can't afford to be. Mickey the Mucker, around two corners and down a back street, wouldn't be a hero and a leader to my boy, but an unpleasant kid with bad manners and vile speech and a habit of telling lies."

KING KONG TO HEADLINE FIRST WRESTLING SHOW

Bewhiskered Wild Man to Meet Florida Champ in Grayslake Area

The mystery man of wrestling, King Kong, has been selected to headline the first all-star heavyweight wrestling program of the summer season to be presented in the mammoth new open-air arena at the Grayslake Junction of routes 20 and 54. The bearded wild-man who was seen riding a motor bicycle through town last week will match strength and grips with Jene Bauman, Florida, State heavyweight wrestling champion in a match to the finish, and the King's appearance in these parts is creating so much interest that the initial card threatens to tax the capacity of the new arena.

Friday night, June 18

King Kong is one of the most talked of wrestlers in the game today and is hailed as the Abyssinian Wild-Man. Jene Bauman, in contrast, is considered one of the most handsome and clean-cut athletes in the sport and has turned down no less than three movie offers from Hollywood.

The semi-windup puts the German Strongman, Rudy Strongberg, against Johnny Plummer, well known highly touted roughster. Strongberg is bitterly complaining that he is receiving the same treatment in this country as his friend, Max Schmeling, and that the so-called champions are ducking him. Plummer should prove a real test.

In one of the other two bouts on the card Jack Conley, who recently turned back King Levinsky in his pro debut as a wrestler, mixes with Ken Fenelon, the Iowa sensation. The other bout features the pro golf star and wrestler of note, "Kid" Chapman against flashy Milt Olsen of Milwaukee.
